

Sales /Application Engineers

(Across Singapore)

Responsibilities:

- Develop and support sales on Particles and Airborne Molecular Contamination products to Key accounts of Microelectronics manufacturing and other HVAC application.
- Manage existing and future project portfolio in terms of quotes, solutions and execution.
- Provide technical support in projects.
- Implement Clean Air Solution including Airborne Molecular Contamination with designers and clean room contractors.

Requirements:

- Degree / Diploma in Biotechnology or Molecular Genetics, Mechanical, Mechatronics Engineering preferably those with knowledge in Chemistry.
- Strong knowledge of microelectronics manufacturing clean room tools, application and process.
- Min 3 years' experience in related business.
- Good project management skills.
- Hands on analytical and contaminant measurement experience a plus.
- Must be able to multi-task.
- Must have own transport.

If you enjoy all the challenges of a fast-paced and dynamic environment, please submit your application complete with resume detailing qualifications, current & expected salary and contact details by email to : recruit@camfilfarr.sg